

MORE FIGHTING IN MILL STRIKE; POLICE JAIL 15

Women and Men Carrying Red Pepper Are Charged by Troops and Arrested.

LAWRENCE, Mass., March 8.—Clashes between strike pickets and the police were common to-day, with the result that ten women and five men were arrested charged with intimidation, assault and violation of the city ordinance. Some of those arrested, the police charged, had bags in their pockets containing a mixture of red pepper, said and opium.

The trouble centre was the Arlington Mills, where a determined effort is being made to break the strike. There the pickets were thickly packed and the police charged them. They broke and ran but quickly reformed. Then a company of militia went at them and they fled up the side streets and reappeared on the opposite side of the mills. There was no unusual violence, and those arrested went calmly to the station, with the exception of one man, who put up a fight and was forcibly subdued. A strikebreaker was not on by three men in an isolated section and badly beaten.

More men reported for work to-day than at any time since the strike began. Most of them, however, were skilled workers, the great mass of the unskilled laborers holding firm to their organization.

It was estimated that during the past three days not more than 2,000 persons have resumed work in the factories. The main body of the strikers, it is thought, intend to hold out in the hope of securing further concessions from the mill owners. The latter declare, however, that a further increase in wages is out of the question.

LITTLE FIRE, BIG PANIC.
Women and Children Jammed on Fire Escape of East Side Tenement.

Thirty families who dwell in the tenement house at Nos. 125-127 Allen street were thrown into a wild panic this afternoon by a fire in a second floor flat. The building was filled with smoke, but there was little material damage.

The fire started in the flat of Louis Hinner, who died yesterday, shortly after funeral services had been held and the casket had left for the cemetery. As the alarm of fire was spread through the house women and children flocked to the front and rear fire-escapes, where they became jammed until the firemen arrived and put up ladders. While there was a vast amount of excitement no one was injured and the fire was confined to the few rooms in which it had been started.

INTERNATIONAL FIGHT FOR $1,500,000 ESTATE.

Hamilton and Stuyvesant Fish Oppose English Petition for Receiver for Northcott Properties.

An estate of $1,500,000, now held by an incompetent, Hugh Hamilton Stuyvesant Fish, is the stake for which attorneys representing Hamilton Fish and Stuyvesant Fish of this city and Lord Alton of Liverpool are fighting in court. Of the fortune, $500,000 consists of realty holdings and bonds in a local safe deposit vault. Attorneys for the English side asked Justice Gavanagh in the Supreme Court to appoint a receiver for the Northcott properties in this country. Bernard S. Rolfe, a London stock broker, recently named by the British courts as committee of the person and property of Northcott. Henry W. Taft, representing the Fishs, opposed the application. He argued that some of the American property was needed for Northcott's maintenance, and held it should be left in this country. Should Northcott die intestate, Taft said, the money and property would revert to the American heirs. If a receiver were to be appointed, he argued, it should be Hamilton Fish.

Justice Gavanagh finally reserved decision.

WAR NURSE DIES AT 103.

Miss Mary Jones Served Union Army Throughout Great Conflict.

Miss Mary D. Jones, who had been a Union nurse during the civil war and who for services rendered then had been drawing a pension for thirty-six years, died to-day, at the age of 103, at the home of her brother, Edward Jones, No. 1 Hart street, Brooklyn. Miss Jones came to this country in the thirties with her parents. Their old home was in Wales. One of the sons enlisted on the Union side during the war and was killed in the battle of Fort Hudson, near New Orleans.

Hearing of her brother's death, Miss Jones went to recover his body. In this she was unsuccessful, but she erected a monument on the spot where he was said to have met his death wound. After that she offered her services as a nurse in the army and remained with it until the war was over. In 1896 Congress granted her a pension, after a bill for it had been introduced by Senator Roscoe Conkling.

GRAND JURY WITNESS OF AUTO VICTIM.
A jury in the Supreme Court before Justice McCall to-day returned a verdict for $50,000 in favor of Mrs. Katherine Daly, whose husband was killed last July when an automobile driven by Arthur Weisbecker ran into an elevated pillar at Two Hundred and Thirtieth street and Broadway. Daly, a machinist, was employed by Weisbecker at the time and was riding with him in the auto. Alfred and Charles Stecker, counsel for Mrs. Daly, claimed there was an obstruction near the elevated pillar and that Weisbecker's failure to notice it in time to avoid an accident was an act of neglect.

DIDN'T KEEP PROMISES TO BACK LAKEWOOD HOTEL.

Attorney for Louis Frenkel Admits That Financiers Failed to Provide the Cash.

Although the severity of the weather this winter is given as the cause for the unexpected closing of the Lakewood Hotel in Lakewood, N. J., Arthur Mayer of No. 261 Broadway, attorney for Louis Frenkel, lessee of the hotel, admitted to-day that the withdrawal of promised financial backing may have hastened the failure.

The Lakewood Hotel, which had been closed for several years, was reopened last December by Mr. Frenkel, president of the Frenkel Hotel Company. The hotel is owned by Nathan Strauss, who it was stated to-day was not interested in it beyond leasing it to Frenkel. During the last week there have only been fifty persons in the hotel, and when they departed unexpectedly and simultaneously the creditors, guessing that the hotel was going to close, flocked down on it. They were told yesterday that Mr. Frenkel had come to consult his attorney in this city.

"I do not deny that certain financial backing failed to materialize," said Lawyer Mayer to-day, "but I don't care to talk about it now. I may have something to say in a few days. I say that some lawsuits may be the result." Louis Frenkel is well known in this city. For several years he was the proprietor of the Olney House. He then became interested in the Olympia in Brooklyn. Last summer Mr. Frenkel became the lessee of a hotel in the Catskill Mountains.
